

Love In Vain

(Helmut Huber)

You make me hear things, I've never heard
You show me places I could never find
You make me see things, I've never seen before
But still I'm feeling so blind

You're in my thoughts, in my mind, you're in my dreams
And I keep you in my heart so carefully
You're in my soul you're in my melodies
You're in my feelings, you became a part of me

You don't know how much I miss you
Sweet, I could go insane
I'm in a maze
I know, all my love for you is in vain

Your soft and sweet scent is in my nose
The sound of your smooth voice is in my head
You are burned into my memories
And remembering you makes me feel so glad

You are all my longing and you are my hope
A bright star in the darkest night
But you are an illusion, I wonder how it could happen to me
You are inside of me and I'm outside

You don't know how much I miss you
Sweet, I could go insane
I'm in a maze
I know, all my love for you is in vain

I'm like a prisoner in a merry go round
And everything is passing by so fast
Turning round and round, but real life is outside
No chance to get out – I'm captured here at last.

I don't know how it could happen, you've enchanted me
And obviously I've lost control
But there is no reason for my loneliness
It doesn't make any sense at all

You don't know how much I miss you
Sweet, I could go insane
I'm in a maze
I know, all my love for you is in vain
