

Sweet Dreams

(Helmut Huber)

Sweet dreams, sweet dreams

It is getting dark and colder now
And silence covers the world outside
You feel all alone, you're weak somehow
And your lost soul hides
There is no thought, hidden in your head
That can ease your pain
Some scars will never mend - the longing for
An unfulfilled love drives you insane

Sweet dreams, sweet dreams

Why cannot be this world different?
From this one you see
What would have been,
If you could have changed her mind so easily?
Sometimes you feel empty and you think
It doesn't make much sense to fight
Probably you will die alone
And no one will be there to cry by your side

Close your eyes
And see the things that will never be
So close your eyes
And flee from this reality

Sweet dreams, sweet dreams

Close your eyes
And see the things that will never be
So close your eyes and flee ....
